

Lessons & Observations from Acts 27

1. A Christian's influence for good can go a long way in creating good in life's situations.
2. On the sea of life, many continue to sail headlong into the upcoming storms in spite of the bible's warnings.
3. A Christian and his faith can be of great encouragement to others during a crisis.
4. Heaven is the greatest crisis call center ever.
5. Just as lives were saved by heeding Heaven's message, souls can be saved by heeding the Word of God.
6. Many have experienced wrecks today . . .
 - a. Wrecked homes.
 - b. Wrecked marriages.
 - c. Wrecked families.
 - d. Wrecked faith. 1 Timothy 1:19
 - e. Wrecked jobs.
 - f. Wrecked friendships.
7. In Acts 27, only those who remained in the ship would be saved from death. Today, only those who remain in Christ and His church will escape spiritual death.
8. In Acts 27, they had to cast things out of the ship in order to live. Today, we have to cast some things out of our lives in order to live spiritually.
9. The sea of life can sometimes be stormy for the Christian as well as for the non-Christian.
10. Natural disasters and unfortunate circumstances should not interrupt faithful service to God.
11. God's providence is alive and well today.
12. Man's sailing season is passing daily.
13. How does your character look, up close and personal?
14. There can be life after "wrecks" in life.
15. In times of crisis, prayer is needed as well.
16. God's assurances never fail.
17. A strong Christian in the midst of a group can make a great difference.

18. It is possible for everyone to escape safely to the shores of Heaven . . . if only they would try.
19. What God has revealed, not all will follow.
20. The storms of life can bring great loss.
