

Choosing a Home Congregation

In choosing a home congregation, the following criteria should be carefully and prayerfully considered:

- 1. Where the congregation is scripturally sound.
- 2. Where the congregation is scripturally organized.
- 3. Where the congregation worships scripturally.
- 4. Where one is needed the most and can do the most good.
- 5. Where one can get the most help in training, growing, and serving for future work.
- 6. Where the congregation is close enough geographically so as to make regular attendance possible.
- 7. Where one will be compatible with other member.
