

Observations About the Church

- Has no earthly headquarters
- Has no monolithic structure
- Each Congregation is autonomous
- No central organization linking congregations together
- Each congregation has its own leadership
- Congregations can cooperate and help each other
- Congregations can encourage each other
- Has no human head or administrator
- Has no human creed
- Follows the New Testament pattern
- Congregations exist side by side, but independent of each other

